

 Chi is the invisible life force or vital energy that flows through all living things. It is thought to be inherited and also derived from food and air.

“if the divine creator has taken pains to give us delicious and exquisite things to eat, the least we can do is prepare them well and serve them with ceremony.”

-Ferdinand Point

Dim Sum, is usually linked with the older tradition of Yum Cha (drinking tea), which has its roots in teahouses, that were established along the road sides of the Silk Road. At first, it was considered inappropriate to combine tea with food, because people believed it would lead to excessive weight gain. People later discovered that tea can aid in digestion, so teahouse owners began adding various snacks.

The unique culinary art of Dim Sum originated with the Cantonese in southern China. In Hong Kong, and in most cities and towns in Guangdong province, restaurants start serving dim sum as early as five in the morning. Consistent with this tradition, dim sum restaurants typically only serve dim sum until midafternoon, and serve other kinds of Cantonese cuisine in the evening. Nowadays, various dim sum items are even sold as take-out for students and office workers on the go. While dim sum (touch the heart) was originally not a main meal, only a snack.

Peking Duck: The history of this unique dish can be traced as far back as 589 A.D., but it gained its fame during the Ming Dynasty, over 600 years ago. The dish was originally named "Shaoyazi" and it had been a favorite of the emperors of China, through the centuries.

The art of roasting the duck, consists of many stages. The Duck is thoroughly cleaned, then hung and drenched with boiling water. Our chef then, bastes it with his special marinade, before leaving it to hang over night. It is roasted in a special hanging oven, while basting continuously. He also, lends his special techniques, insuring a succulent, tender and perfectly crisped duck, ready to titillate your pallet.
